Prof. Dr. Pratapsinh Chauhan

Conscience economics need socially conscious business leaders who have a clear understanding of interdependence of profit, sustainability and social good. They must be holistic and ethical decision makers.

We are living in a knowledge economy saddled with constant disruption, change and uncertainties. We need emotionally strong managers, well equipped with critical thinking skills, agile, adoptable and quick decision makers with available partial data analysis.

We train our students how to think in addition to what to think.

The next gen managers will work in a hyper connected world.

We prepare our students on how to communicate, articulate, negotiate and work seamlessly with virtual, global and collaborative organizational design architecture.

We offer a learning and thinking environment for generation of New Ideas for innovation to sustain an organization in an economy in constant state of flu and charm.

Business leaders of tomorrow must Do Right and Do Good.

I am confident that you will participate in our campus placement season 2019 beginning from January, 2019 to April, 2019 very enthusiastically spreading smile on faces of our 22nd batch of young MBA's who I am sure, will prove to be an asset for your organizations and give you constant delight through their superior performance and willingness to learn new things in disruptive environment.

Dr. Kiritsinh Chauhan
